LUCKY GOLD HUNTERS.

Some of Those Who Struck It Rich in the Victor Fields Were Poor Men.

During the period of first locations among the rich mines at Victor there were incidents which form an interesting history concerning the character of the men and the peculiar circumstances under which they made their lucky finds. All of them were poor, and nearly all have quickly grown from poverty to affluence, while many others now share the benefits of their fortune. It is well known that the two leading discoverers were poor carpenters—W. S. Stratton, the millionaire owner of the Independence, and W. T. Shawwell, who found the Elkhorn. Of all men known to possess wealth Mr. Stratton is one of the least pretentious, though he realizes the benefits and blessings of fortune and says he will enjoy the uses of his money to the end of making the balance of his life pleasant. Shawwell, owning 100,000 shares in the Elkhorn, is over in Honolulu with his family, having a good time on an income of $1,000 per month.

It is well known that Burns and Doyle were also poor young men who found the rich Portland mine by the usual chances of the prospector and for some time were unaware of their good fortune. When they had reached a depth of 18 feet in the process of development work, John Haman, another poor prospector, purchased a third interest in the claim for $300. After the purchase, greatly to his joy and in one sense to the discomfiture of the locators, an assay from the ore gave returns of $20,000 in gold to the ton. Immediately after that the partners shipped 19 small sacks that netted them $1,900 cash. Since that time these men have grown wealthy, and the group of names bearing the Portland connection is growing in richness. Many others in the district are now going through the first stages of such experiences, and there are many more mountains and hills that will some day be scarred and drilled and honeycombed as Battle Mountain appears to be today. —Denver Times.

SMITH'S QUEER AILMENT.

His Tongue Suddenly Runs Amuck and Disgraces Him.

As curious a case as has ever come up in the municipal court of this city probably was that of Captain J. B. Smith, who appeared before Judge Reid today to answer the charge of using vulgar and foul language on the street, the warrant being sworn out for his arrest by Dr. J. C. Grohman. The charge was not denied by Captain Smith, who, through his attorney, entered a plea of being unable to hinder himself from using such language; that the muscles of his throat were affected with St. Vitus' dance, producing at times involuntary ejaculations for which he was not responsible, but which were directly traceable to the effects of the peculiar malady by which he is afflicted.

Smith may be talking rationally enough with a person, when he will at once make use of the foulest expressions and has been known to threaten the lives of his listeners, and in the next breath he will give the assurance that he did not mean anything he said.

Judge Reid ordered him to keep off the street, and his friends agreed to keep him in a private boarding house, and he stated that he would write to California for money and would leave the city by Monday next.

Smith has been the victim of San Francisco county, Cal., and has held other responsible offices in that county. He was committed to the insane asylum at Salem, Or., last September, on account of his strange malady, but escaped from the institution and came to Tacoma. The doctors of the asylum discovered that he was not insane and returned him to the institution from the institution on the books two days after his escape. He was brought before Judge Stallcup two weeks ago and examined as to his sanity and discharged. He is quite wealthy. —Tacoma Dispatch.

WHISTLER'S EGOTISM.

Now He Is Really Angry at Du Maurier and Is Quietly Kicking Himself.

The world of high class Bohemia in London has not yet ceased laughing over the vociferous disgust of Whistler that Du Maurier left him out of the story of "Tribby," which is now printed in book form. For the sake of the advertising in it Whistler wrote a stinging bitter letter to Du Maurier reproaching the author for drawing the painter's likeness in his novel, but now that the author has out the painter Whistler is really furious. Before he was only pretending to be so. This self-explaining American is one of the original celebrities of Europe. Once he had occasion to call at his studio in Chelsea on business connected with the art exhibit of the American exhibition in London. He wore a velvet coat, a low cut waistcoat, unbuttoned shirt, flowing orange necktie, wide trousers and felt slippers, and spoke only epigrams, some of which were good. Later on I expressed a wish to look at some of his work.

"My dear fellow," he exclaimed in great seeming astonishment, "can you put up with a creature after having met the creator? The part can never equal the whole." "That tired feeling" with a glass of sherry and persuaded him to show me the pictures. That was what I was there for. —New York Press.

Railway Up the Jungfrau.

The Swiss authorities have at last sanctioned the plans for a railway up the Jungfrau. The railway will, in its upper extremity, run in a tunnel, ending in spirals in the interior of the mountain and will end on a little rocky plateau on the western side of the summit. The last portion of the ascent will be made, painful to relate, by something so intensely modern as an elevator. The narrow ridge at the summit will be leveled by blasting for a hotel.

TURKISH ATROCITIES IN ARMENIA.

The people of Armenia, which is an inland region of Western Asia, mostly within the limits of Asiatic Turkey, are Christians. The country is mountainous and its inhabitants, like all mountaineers, are brave and independent. They profess to have been the first nation that unitedly embraced Christianity; and they have adhered to that faith through ages of Moslem persecution. In 637 the Moslem Caliphs invaded Armenia. Though the Armenians suffered various disasters they refused to embrace Islamism. In 1390 the country was devastated by Tamerlane, and afterwards overrun by the Turks, who still hold the country in subjection, though a part of ancient Armenia is subject to Russia.

The fanatical Musselmans have subjected the Christian Armenians to the greatest persecution. They hate the Christian dogs, as they call them. They do not allow them to have firearms or weapons of any kind, and upon the slightest pretext, and frequently without any provocation whatever, they massacre the people of large towns and villages. Recently one of those outrages was perpetrated, the Armenians say, by Turkish troops, and the heroism of the defenseless and unarmed Armenians is without parallel. When the Turks besieged Andakh the Armenians strengthened their position and defended it heroically for six days, fighting with stones and pitchforks. The women took the places of their dead husbands and when provisions gave out defended the village while the men went out to forage for food. Finally, when surrounded on all sides and the women with their children saw that they could not fight their way out, the wife of their chief stepped on a high rock and cried: "Sisters, you must fall into the hands of the Turks and forget your husbands, your homes and your holy religion to adopt Islamism, or you must follow me." Holding her young child in her arms she dashed off the precipice. Others followed her example and the children followed their mothers until the ravine was filled with their bodies.

The Armenians have for years appealed in vain to Christian nations for protection from Turkish persecution, and now, in the name of humanity, renew the appeal. The British and other European Governments, as well as our own, turned a deaf ear to their entreaties until the press and the pulpit have forced them to take action. England and Russia will take the initiative and invest the outrages. Possibly Turkey may be asked to restrain its soldiery and not permit such atrocities, and there the matter will end.

The good people of the civilized world contribute millions annually to maintain missionaries in heathen countries, yet the governments of those nations permit the oldest Christian nation to be persecuted to the limits of human endurance by the most fanatical and blood-thirsty Christian haters on the globe, because interference with their devilry might disturb the balance of power in Europe.

THE SILVER SENTIMENT.

According to Washington correspondents, who say they have made a very careful and exhaustive inquiry into the matter, the House Committee on Banking and Currency will report a bill framed on the lines of the Carlisle plan. This bill, they claim, will receive the support of many of the Southern members and possibly of the silver men from the West. It will doubtless pass the House, but may be defeated in the Senate.

Many members of the House who were friendly to silver say the recent election furnishes evidence of increasing unpopularity to free coinage. They point to the defeat of Bland, Pence, Elloe, and other prominent bimetalists, and the election of pronounced anti silver men in various Western States as indicating that the people do not want free coinage, and therefore they must embrace the next best proposition which may furnish the people more money, even if it be not so good, and they believe this can be secured by the Carlisle plan. This view, however, prevails only in the House and among members who were defeated for re-election. In the Senate the silver sentiment is as strong as ever, and it is not probable that a bill based on the Carlisle scheme will pass that body without a bitter struggle.

The opinions of the Washington correspondents, nearly all of whom are connected with the metropolitan press, may be expressed for a purpose. The large city newspapers are opposed to free coinage and do all in their power to discourage the spread of the silver sentiment. It is quite natural that men like Congressman Bland, who has been advocating free coinage within old party lines for years, should attribute his defeat to a growing feeling against silver. It should be remembered, however, that Mr. Bland was a candidate on a platform that endorsed Mr. Cleveland's Administration, and it is but reasonable to assume that his defeat is mainly attributable to that fact. Caudill men, who believe in the full remonetization of silver, regardless of its effect on party, would naturally question the sincerity of Mr. Bland or any other avowed advocate of free coinage who endorsed an Administration or a party that is opposed to it. They knew that if the Democrats, as a party, favored free coinage they would have the power during the short session of Congress to pass a free coinage bill, whatever might be the result of the November election. They could not see how Mr. Bland, posing as one of the champions of silver, could endorse the Administration of Mr. Cleveland, who is as much opposed to the metal as Mr. Sherman, and concluded, as they could not consistently vote for Mr. Bland nor his goldbug Republican opponent, to not vote at all. Now Mr. Bland feels, because of his defeat, that the silver sentiment is not as strong among the people as it has been. Mr. Bartine, who occupied the same position relatively to the Republican party that Mr. Bland did to the Democratic party, might urge the same reasons for his defeat. He, like Mr. Bland, professed to be a silver advocate while upholding a party which Senator Jones says is unalterably opposed to free coinage. The people of Nevada could not see how he could consistently advocate Republicanism and free coinage at the same time and they did not elect him. His defeat, as well as that of Mr. Bland, only proves that intelligent people, who are sincere in their advocacy of free coinage, will not countenance political duplicity in a Missouri Democrat or a Nevada Republican.

THE CALIFORNIA CONTEST.

Estee Determined to Down Bland. SAN FRANCISCO, December 15.—The Republican State Central Committee is in session this afternoon. The session is executive, but reports were admitted to hear a speech by M. M. Estee to the committee.

Estee said the only thing for the Republicans to do was to fight for honest elections. He said they must act now, and that though a recount in San Francisco might unearth only a small amount of the frauds committed, it would at least show whether there had been open violation of the election franchise in counting the ballots. The speaker then referred to certain pretexts in San Francisco in which irregularities are admitted and frauds are apparent.

He referred briefly to the case of Congressman Hillborn, in whose case, he said, the Democrats did not hesitate to go behind the returns when they had an opportunity to oust him and seat a Democrat. In conclusion, after again demanding a recount, Estee said he would rather be beaten by fraud than elected by fraud.

After considerable discussion following Estee's speech, the committee appointed a sub committee of the seven members under instructions to make all arrangements to go before the State legislature and demand a recount of the entire vote for State officers, particularly the vote of San Francisco. This action means a bitter fight in the coming State legislature.

Chairman Cornwall appointed the following committee to inaugurate the contest: Alvinza Hayward, San Francisco; A. R. Wells, San Francisco; Geo. P. McLain, Los Angeles; A. B. Lemmon, Santa Rosa; E. K. Taylor, Alameda; George C. Ross, San Mateo; C. W. Mainwright, San Francisco.

PRESIDENT ST JOHN

He Appeared Before the House Banking and Currency Committee.

WASHINGTON, December 15.—W. J. St. John, President of the New York Mercantile Bank, appeared before the Banking and Currency Committee to-day and gave his views on finance. St. John declared it was the duty of Congress to stop experimenting and go back to the Hamilton-Jefferson coinage system to restore bimetalism, independent of other nations. He took up the subject of what he termed "Goldites." He cited the record of France in independent bimetalism. The conditions in the United States were much more propitious for such action. Within ten years there was a promise of exceeding the population of Great Britain and France and our gold and silver could circulate over a territory seventeen times the area of France.

St. John presented a bill as a remedy. It provides for silver coinage on the same basis as gold. To meet the money stringency the bill provides for coin certificates based on bonds hypothecated by banks in such quantities as the Secretary of the Treasury may determine. St. John said the bill would put the country on a silver basis and for all time thereafter both metals would circulate.

As to the Carlisle plan St. John said it would "fall flat." The banks would not accept it. They would become State banks, but the Secretary's bill was better than the Baltimore plan.

WILL HAVE TO CLOSE SUNDAYS.

SAN BERNARDINO, December 15.—This afternoon Judge Otis of the Superior Court rendered a decision sustaining the legality of the city ordinance which provides for the closing of all classes of business on Sunday except drug stores.

FROM THE ORIENT.

The War Still on Between the Chinese and Japs.

HONGKONG, December 15.—A dispatch from Antong says General Tachimi's troops were attacked at So Chimo and were holding the Chinese in check. At Li Chang Tson on December 12 the Chinese were compelled by an inferior force to retire from Tabashu. The Chinese, numbering 4,000, advanced the following day, when fighting ensued. The result is not known.

The Program on Secretary Carlisle's Plan.

WASHINGTON, December 15.—By the close vote of 9 to 8, the Committee on Banking and Currency of the House decided to-night to report Secretary Carlisle's plan for the revision of the currency. Representative Johnson of Ohio and Representative Ellis of Kentucky voted with the Republicans against reporting the plan.

The report will be made on Monday, the debate will begin on Tuesday and the Committee on Rules will be asked to fix the final vote in the House for next Friday at 3 p. m. This conclusion was reached after a spirited executive session of the committee. It has been in session for a week hearing officials and bankers on the proposed revision. The hearing closed to-day at 4 o'clock. Chairman Springer announced that the Democrats of the committee had agreed on a rule for conducting the debate. This contemplated the reporting of the bill on Monday, general debate on Tuesday and Wednesday, debate under the five-minute rule on Thursday and Friday and a vote at 3 p. m. Friday. It was also decided that the daily debate should begin at 11 a. m. and that there should be night sessions.

Mr. Springer said that no amendments would now be offered to Carlisle's plan, but that it would be open to amendment by any member on the floor of the House.

The committee adjourned without adopting a rule for debate.

Lavigne Gave the Cause of Bowen's Death.

NEW ORLEANS, December 15.—Lavigne was asked regarding the death of Bowen and the arrest of the participants in the fight: "I regret it very much indeed," he replied. "Bowen was a good fighter and one of the pluckiest fellows I have ever met. It is gross injustice to me, however, to say that the knockout I gave Bowen caused his death. That blow was hardly a knockout lick at all. It was the force of the fall which killed poor Bowen."

Overdue Vessels Creating Anxiety.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 15.—Up to a late hour this afternoon there were still no tidings of the steam colliers Montezuma and Keweenaw, the former from Nantamo and the latter from Comox, B. C. and both five days overdue at this port. In marine circles it is generally believed that both vessels have been lost. Some anxiety is also felt for the bark Germania, coal laden and thirteen days out from Seattle, and the lumber laden bark Columbian eleven days out from Port Blakely.

Sentenced to Life Imprisonment.

LOS ANGELES, December 15.—Alvah Johnson, a young rancher who pleaded guilty to complicity in two train robberies near Roscoe, in one of which a brakeman and a passenger were killed, was arraigned for sentence this afternoon. With tears streaming down his face Johnson reiterated his confession and begged for the clemency of the Court. The convict was sentenced to life imprisonment at the San Quentin penitentiary, and showed signs of relief when he fully realized that he had escaped the death penalty.

Robbed of $2,000.

GREENVILLE, Tenn., December 15.—On the outskirts of Greenville late yesterday two masked men held up Synth Taylor and compelled him to hand over $2,000 which had been paid him at the bank a short time ago for a plantation.

General Booth Received.

OAKLAND, December 15.—General William Booth, Commander of the Salvation Army, arrived here to-day and will remain until Monday when he will go to San Francisco. The Salvationists of Oakland and San Francisco received their leader with considerable display.

M. Hammerly, a well-known business man of Hillsboro, Va., sends the following to the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla: "Several years ago, I had my leg the injury leaving a sore which led to erysipelas. My sufferings were extreme, my leg from the knee to the ankle, being a solid sore, which began to extend to other parts of the body. After trying various remedies, I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had finished the first bottle, I experienced great relief; the second bottle effected a complete cure."

An Attempted Assassination.

SAN RAPHAEL, Cal., December 15.—The Swiss Hotel, a cheap boarding house in the east end of town, was wrecked by giant powder this morning. The explosion was the result of a deliberate attempt to assassinate Mrs. John Braro, the widow who owns the hotel.

Antonio Victorias, an Italian laborer, who had courted Mrs. Braro and proposed marriage to her and had been refused, is under arrest charged with the crime. Victorias went into the kitchen where a brick fire was burning in the range, and called to Mrs. Braro to come to him. As she stepped from the bar into the kitchen, Victorias threw a big stick of giant powder into the fire and ran out of the room through a rear door. The explosion occurred before Mrs. Braro was well into the kitchen. Though she was thrown violently to the floor and painfully cut and bruised, she escaped serious injury. The stove was demolished, the kitchen and whole rear part of the two-story building wrecked, and many windows in neighboring houses were broken. Victorias refuses to talk. Mrs. Braro's husband committed suicide some time since by shooting.

A Suit For Damages.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 15.—H. B. Jackson, who was shot in the side by James McDonald, has commenced suit against Joseph Langdruff, McDonald's employer, for $15,000 damages. Jackson entered Langdruff's saloon, of which McDonald was bar-tender. Langdruff ordered McDonald to put Jackson out. When the latter resisted he told McDonald to shoot him. The bar-tender obeyed the orders, and now Jackson holds that McDonald was not responsible for the shooting, but that Langdruff, the man who ordered it done, is, hence the suit for damages.

YOUNG LADIES' ENTERTAINMENT.
A Complete Success and a Very Large Audience in Attendance.

The young ladies of the State University have reason to feel justly proud of the splendid entertainment given by them at the Opera House last evening. The theater was crowded from the orchestra rail to the entrance doors of the parquet and every seat in the gallery was occupied. The large audience was enthusiastic in its repeated encores and individually expressed appreciation of the efforts to entertain by expressions of commendation from every side. The character of the entertainment was something new in Reno and of such a novel feature that as each number was concluded all were on the qui vive of expectancy to witness the next.

PART I.

The University Orchestra opened the program with a well-rendered selection. Military drill, Captain, Miss Bender; privates Gould, Maxwell, Saddler, Mayberry, Shafer, Allen, Fanning, Grimes, Hart, Evans, Longley and Jones. The young ladies were dressed in uniform style and drilled like old soldiers, making the movements with grace and precision.

Miss Mabel Stanaway, Reno's favorite, sang a solo in her usually artistic manner and received an encore.

Bellamy's (looking backward), the young ladies being costumed in rather a ghostly style, with their hair combed over their faces and masks on the backs of their heads. They went through many pantomimic movements and the green electric light thrown upon them gave a weird and uncanny aspect to the scene.

The Broom Drill by Captain Lincolnton, Color Sergeant Miss North, privates Erwin, Steiner, Robinson, Bradshaw, Stubbs, Edmunds, Twombly, Patton, Virgin, Ward, Linn, Edmunds, Murphy, Douglas and Haines.

The young ladies were uniformed in red and white, having brooms for guns and dustpans for cartridge boxes. The evolutions and posings were made with perfect precision and time, and the audience went wild with delight.

PART II.

The curtain arose on "A Look Into the Future," representing a scene in the U. S. Senate in 1950. It smacked strongly of woman's rights and the manner in which women would conduct the affairs of government. All of the notables were represented such as Vice-President of the United States, Ambassadors, Generals of the army, Senators, Pages, etc. The dignity of the legislative hall was observed in true style, until in one section of the chamber a mammoth spider dropped from the domed ceiling and poised just above the heads of the Senators which created a momentary panic in that division which had to be quieted by the young lady Sergeant-at-Arms.

Quiet was restored and the proceedings continued until an inquisitive rat gained entrance into the Senate chamber, when the dignified Senators with one impulse let out a womanly scream and the session adjourned informally without date.

The Fan Drill was a gem, and was performed by Captain Catlin, Privates Frey, Hironymous, Martin, Wheeler, Parker, Brunette, Robb and Phillips. The maneuvers were graceful and well executed, and under electrical effects were magnificent.

Living Pictures, "The Soldier's Farewell, Dream and Return," by Misses Douglas and Virgin and others, was a framed tableau, that did credit to the young lady participants as well as to the manipulators of the scenic effects. The entertainment concluded with "The Famous Oklahoma Jubilee Singers," who rendered a number of negro melodies in splendid style.

As a whole the entertainment was a grand success, and if repeated a good house would be assured.

LOVELOCK FLOURING MILL.

It is expected to be running in February. Work has been commenced on a large flour mill which is to be built on the Humboldt river about four miles east of Lovelock, near the railroad bridge. The mill is the property of the Lovelock milling company, which consists of J. H. Thies, W. C. Pitt and P. K. Ried & Co. It will be of 50 barrels per day capacity run by water from the Humboldt, and is expected to be in running order by the middle of February. The process of manufacture used will be the latest improved patent roller, the machinery being made by M. O'Brien of San Francisco, in whose mill at the World's Fair was made from Lovelock wheat the flour which captured the first prize at the great Exposition. The success of the venture is assured, as Lovelock farmers have for years been shipping their wheat away and buying it back in the shape of flour. If the money which is sent out of Nevada each year to buy products which could just as well be produced and manufactured at home, was kept in the State, it would lessen in a great degree the cause for complaint of hard times.—Silver State.

An Arm Broken.

Albert, the youngest son of Dr. Bergstein, met with an accident yesterday morning by which he sustained the fracture of the right arm just above the elbow. He has a pet donkey and while riding he either fell or was thrown off. The little fellow realized that he was severely hurt but was brave enough to hurry home and told his father what had happened. The doctor immediately saw what the trouble was and made preparations to set the arm. After this had been done the little fellow was quite sick for an hour or two, but was getting along as well as could be expected last evening.

GENERAL CUT IN WAGES

It Will go into Effect on the Southern Pacific System January 1st

The Bulletin says, "What General Superintendent Fillmore emphatically calls a 'general readjustment of the wage schedule' will go into effect on the Southern Pacific system on the first day of January.

"This means a general cut in wages, with some slight exceptions. The reductions are to affect the engineers and firemen, freight-handlers and employees of various departments.

"Several hundred freight-handlers at fourth and Townsend streets will have their pay cut down from the present rate of 22½ cents an hour to 20 cents an hour. Engineers of switch engines will receive uniform wages of $3 a day. Excepting those of Oakland they now get $100 a month of twenty-six working days. A few engineers in the West Oakland yards will benefit by the change to the extent of $3 a month, but for the others the 'readjustment' means a reduction of about one-fifth of the present wages.

"There is still some uncertainty as to the future wages of the engineers on the mountain divisions, but some reductions are expected. The pay of engineers having runs in the valleys is not likely to be reduced.

"The new schedule is to relate to all parts of the Southern Pacific system between Portland and El Paso, and from San Francisco to Ogden.

"There is much feeling over the matter among the employees affected, particularly among the engineers who are to suffer, in view of the fact that the engineers stood by the company during the great strike of last July and enabled it to operate trains despite the A. R. U.

"Talk of a strike, in consequence of the cut, is heard in some quarters, but the general opinion among the railroad men is that the new schedule will be performed accepted, as under present conditions a strike would be hopeless."

OCEAN WAVES.

An Immense Rock Lifted 100 Feet and Crashed Through a Lighthouse.

Last Sunday during the storm on the Oregon coast waves dashed on the Tillamook lighthouse and smashed the glass that protected the powerful lens, which is 130 feet above high water. A monster rock was lifted 100 feet and fell on the roof of the hall and crashed through into the kitchen, ruining the range. At one time six feet of water was in the siren room and four feet in the living rooms. These rooms are 88 feet above high water. Nearly everything in the way of edibles except the canned goods was ruined. The men are all right.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

What Hon. Thomas Wren Says on the Subject.

In reply to a request of the Gazette to give his views on woman suffrage Hon. Thomas Wren sent the following:

RENO, Nev., December 12, 1894.

SIR:—Your note requesting my views in regard to woman's suffrage came duly to hand three or four days since. In reply permit me to say that I deem the remonetization of silver and monetary reform as the paramount issue of the day, and of vastly greater importance to the people of this State than "woman's suffrage" or any other political question that now engages the attention of our people. When by united action we have secured remonetization it will be quite time enough for us to discuss, divide and legislate upon the question of "woman's suffrage," and any or all of the other political questions of the day. Thousands of women and children in this State are now suffering from the necessities of life on account of the demonetization of silver. What they want is bread for themselves and children and not the right to vote.

Respectfully yours,
THOMAS WREN.

Hank Martin All Right.

As some doubts are still entertained by the Republicans regarding Senator Martin's silver sentiments, the Appeal will State just what he told the writer. His words were, "I was elected by a silver vote in Douglas, I run on a silver ticket and I shall vote for the Silver party in the organization of the Senate. What do these lunatics think of me? Do they take me for a fool; to accept a silver nomination, be elected on a Silver ticket and after 'all this, go in with a Republican minority?"—Appeal.

DO YOU WEAR ARTIFICIAL TEETH?

The Old Style Plate Superseded.

If your artificial teeth are loose and unsatisfactory, or if the old style of entirely covering the roof of the mouth with rubber causes irritation and discomfort, try a plate made by a new method which leaves the roof of the mouth almost entirely uncovered and you will find the plate to remain firm without causing any inconvenience or loss of taste. If you wear artificial teeth try one of my narrow plates and you will find the greatest comfort and satisfaction. All work guaranteed, and prices as low as is consistent with strictly first-class operations.

During the prevalence of the grippe the past seasons it was a noticeable fact that those who depended upon Dr. King's New Discovery, not only had a speedy recovery, but escaped all of the troublesome after-effects of the malady. This remedy seems to have a peculiar power in affecting rapid cures of La Grippe, but in all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, and has cured cases of Asthma and Hay Fever of long standing. Try it and be convinced. It won't disappoint. Free Trial Bottles at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

CRISPI'S AMBITIONS.
Interesting Situation Made Apparent by the Premier's Visit to the Vatican.
The remarkable speech made by Premier Crispi at Naples the other day has since been almost the sole topic of conversation among politicians, whose excitement contrasts curiously with the composure with which the apparent overtures for a reconciliation between state and church have been discussed at the Vatican. The clerical and his due to the fact that the pope and his counselors have long been aware of the desires of the court and the liberal aristocracy and of the great middle class for a friendly understanding with the Vatican and of the gradual conversion of the redoubtable Crispi himself to the political necessity for a working arrangement between church and state.
The spread of ultra revolutionary doctrines in recent years has greatly alarmed Crispi, himself an old revolutionary,
and the various attempts on his own life have doubtless quickened his hatred of anarchism. But the main motive naturaling him has been personal and political.
There is no longer a Crispi party in the Italian chamber. The present ministerial majority is composed of men of various shades of political opinion, whose action at any given moment cannot be relied upon. Crispi's aim now is undoubtedly the formation of a new moderate conservative party, but he has little prospect of success without the support of the clericals, whose influence throughout Italy is enormous. The Agenzia Italia Italiana said some time ago that Crispi, in the course of conversation with friends, said he had three ambitions in life—the restoration of the national finances, the re-establishment of friendly commercial relations with France and the reconciliation of church and state. Hostile politicians are doing their best to thwart the first, but the second is believed to be within measurable distance. The third depends upon Crispi's power, desire and courage to overcome its influence at the patri-mentary polls. It is believed that the Vatican is quite prepared to treat—

DISCOMFITURE OF A LADY.
Attacked by a Barrel of Cider While Promising Kindling Wood.
Lewis Matthews, a young farmer of Chestnut Hill, drove down to this city
last week with a load of kindling wood to sell. Before starting out he went down cellar and tested a full barrel of cider. Finding it had a good head on, Lewis loaded it on the back end of his wagon, with the idea that it also could be sold in the city.
It was a long way to town, the day was warm, and the sun beat down on the load with considerable strength.
Farmer Matthews had entered the city and was driving along the street, looking out for kindling wood customers,
when a handsomely dressed woman approached the curb to ask him the price of the load.
The farmer turned his horse up to the walk and had just laid down the reins when an explosion occurred. The bung of the cider barrel flew out with great force and, as luck would have it, landed squarely in the face of the prospective customer. A stream of cider followed closely in the wake of the bung. Both struck her in the mouth, and there was a panic. The blow, of course, startled the woman, and as she opened her mouth to scream the cider filled it so quickly as to force the scream back. It choked the woman so that she nearly strangled.
The noise of the explosion, the hiss of the escaping cider and the convulsive gurgles of the woman combined to frighten Farmer Matthews's horse, and before the young man knew what had happened the animal had started to run. Matthews was thrown to the ground, the wheels ran over him, and the horse kept on. Before he stopped the kindling wood was scattered over two wards, the wagon was wrecked, and the ambulance was on its way to take the young farmer to the hospital. Fortunately he was not much injured, except in feelings, and even these were nothing compared to the state of mind of the woman.—Ansonia (Conn.) Letter.

An Impossible House.
The man and his wife called on the architect, and the architect was glad to see them, for business was extremely dull.
"We want you to build a house for us," said the man by way of introduction.
"Thanks," bowed the architect. "I shall be only too glad to do so, and I am quite sure that I can give entire satisfaction."
"Well, you ought to," remarked the lady. "We don't want much."
"What kind of a house did you wish?"
inquired the architect.
"We want a good, plain one of about eight rooms," explained the man, "and we will leave the design to you. All we expect is that when you have finished it it will suit my wife and myself.
I mean on the inside. We are not so particular about the outside."
The architect heaved a deep sigh.
"I'm very sorry," he said, "but you will have to go to some other architect.
We can't design an impossible house in this office."—Detroit Free Press.

A Compliment.
Two old schoolfellows met 15 years
after their graduation and fell, figuratively, upon each other's necks.
"Well, well, dear old Smith!" said
Green. "How glad I am to see you!
What days those were! Ha, ha, Smith, you were the stupidest fellow in the class!"
"Yes, I suppose I was."
"And here you are now! Why," looking him over, "you haven't changed a particle!"—Youth's Companion.
